

The Ponies are back in Town!

By Reader Staff

The Carousel of Smiles has moved its workshop into Sandpoint, and is now located at the "Cedar Street Station", also known as the Misty Mountain Furniture Building.

"The space is great" says Reno Hutchison. "One can almost envision our new workshop resembling one from the 1920s when these great horses were originally carved. It is exciting to be in town, and work is progressing on the next group of ponies that are almost ready for paint."

The Carousel workshop is in the corner space, 210 A at Fifth and Cedar streets. As part of the Sandpoint Winter Carnival, The Carousel of Smiles will be participating in the Friday Eve Parade (5:30 p.m.) - come see our full-size snow globe featuring "Stormy."

The Carousel of Smiles and will also have open houses on both Carnival weekends.

All are welcome to stop by and see the ponies in their new stable.
